NUMB. 220

THURSDAY, MARCH 11. 1736.

Nº 220.

The following is the Act of King Stanislaus's Abdication, as it was sent to Vienna.

F the Instability of Things here below was not already sufficiently notorious, the extraordinary Adventures that we have continually gone thro', wou'd make it evident beyond all Dispute. The very first time that we were raised to the Throne of Poland, we saw ourselves oblig'd to quit it by the Fortune of War, tho' the Validity of that Election had Justice and the Laws of the Country for its Support. The Stedfastness with which we bore the first Shock was very gloriously rewarded; it pleased the Divine Providence to crown our Wishes, and to unite us to his Most Christian Majesty by the strictest Bands. After so Signal an Instance of Happiness, we wished for nothing more than to enjoy it with an inviolable Tranquility, and with a perpetual Acknowledgment to the Author of all Blessings. But the free Votes of the noble Polish Nation having call'd us a second time into our Native Country, to fill the vacant Throne of that Kingdom, we thought ourselves oblig'd to obey the Call. Our Eyes were not at all dazzled with the Splendor of Royalty, being convinced, that nothing gives a real Lustre to the Throne but the Virtues of the Prince who renders himself worthy of it; so that nothing less than the earnest Desires and repeated Supplications of our noble Nation, cou'd have determin'd us to go and resume that Government; and our sole View in consenting to it, was to contribute to the Felicity of our worthy Countrymen, who manifested such an Attachment for our Person. We propos'd, with all our Authority, to support the Laws of the Kingdom, of which one of the chief is, that Poland be governed by a Prince of their own, born and bred in their own Country; and such Motives as these were the more powerful, because they were supported by the most Christian King. That great Monarch spared neither his Authority nor his Pains, to favour our free Election, and he even propos'd to contribute, in a very singular Manner, to the Happiness of our Reign. We shall not here mention the many great Efforts that we have made, and Dangers that we have run, to accomplish our Undertakings, those Efforts and those Perils being no more than a Consequence of our tender Affection for our Country: If they had succeeded according to our Desires, it would have afforded us perpetual Cause of Joy and Satisfaction; but the Envy and Jealousy of certain particular Persons unluckily came in the Way to frustrate him. Instead of Tranquility, we saw nothing but Tumult; and Discord came in the Place of that happy Union, without which there is no Felicity to be expected in any State. In vain did we strive to surmount the many Obstacles that disturb'd the Happiness of our Reign: All our Endeavours and Desires were not able to deliver our Country from the Calamities with which it was oppress'd, and of which we could not hope to see a speedy Issue. In this melancholy Juncture, being sway'd by no Motive but our tender Affection for the Polish Nation, we found ourselves sincerely dispos'd to sacrifice our own Interest to its Tranquility; the Desire of restoring Quiet to our Countrymen and dear Nation, being more prevalent with us, than the Splendor of the Crown, and the Prerogatives annex'd to it. The next thing to be done, was to procure the Recognition of our Title as lawfully elect'd; and that was the real Motive of the War, which was undertaken by the most Christian King: We also judg'd, that this Formality was absolutely necessary, because the Rights and Privileges of Poland principally consist in the free Election of its Kings; and because we were engag'd by a solemn Oath to maintain the Liberties and Prerogatives of the Country inviolably. We should never have determin'd to separate ourselves from our most dear Countrymen, if we had not seen, that the Preservation of those very Rights and Privileges was sufficiently stipulated by the Preliminaries of the Peace. In fine, the only Consolation that remains for us now, that we are no longer permitted to live with our Brethren, is to see that all Europe approves of our Conduct, and commends us for having done every thing incumbent on us, to procure Peace and Tranquility to this noble Nation, and for having concurred to the Accomplishment of the Views of the most Christian King, which were always to procure himself fitting Satisfaction, and after having pacified the Troubles of Poland, to secure the Interest of that Nation and ours too.

Being therefore fully perswaded, that the most Christian King, out of his tender Affection for us, and for our noble and free Country, has made all that Provision for what concerns us, that we could desire, we have resolv'd, of our full and free Will, as well for ourselves, as for our Polish Subjects, to absolve them from the Oath of Allegiance, which they took to us of their own Accord; and do by these Presents discharge them from their Obligations on that Head. We declare moreover, that we renounce the Sovereign Authority, that we had over them, by Virtue of our free and lawful Election; and we flatter ourselves, that the Polish Nation will never fail to remember the Import and Sacrifice, which we generously make for her Sake, and in Consideration of the publick Tranquility. Nothing remains for us now, but to conjure my dear Countrymen, religiously to preserve this dear Calm, and to suppress the Remains of Hatred and Enmity which they bear to one another, to the End that Peace and Concord may hereafter reign in our dear Country without Interruption.

The Time of our Separation is just at hand; but we wish to be always present in the Hearts and Minds of our noble Nation, so as nothing may be ever able to part us. We shall also incessantly and earnestly seek all Opportunities to give effectual Testimonies of our Royal Good Will to all in general, and every one in particular.

Given at Koningsberg the 28th of January 1736, in the third Year of our Reign.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from France, and another from Flanders.

Leghorn, Feb. 10. O. S.

Admiral Norris's Son is arriv'd here from Florence to embark for Lisbon.

Milan, Feb. 11. O. S. The Ambassador of England is returned on a sudden to Turin, having left his Lady here, and 'tis believ'd he is gone to put the last Hand to the Preliminaries of the Peace that are said to have been accepted by Spain.

Pisa, Feb. 14. O. S. 'Tis said the Duke de Montemar has order'd all his Troops to be ready to march by the first of March, and that Leghorn and Porto Ferrajo are to be deliver'd the same Month to the Great Duke, who is to put them into the Hands of the Germans the same Month, with a Garrison of 6000 Men.

Dantzick, Feb. 20. O. S. 'Tis now said, that King Stanislaus will not set out so soon from Koningsberg as has been given out, and that he will stay till the Opening of the next Dyet at Warsaw. The Damages sustain'd by the Bombardment of this City, which were formerly much exaggerated, are now nicely computed at 1,150,000 Crowns.

Vienna, Feb. 23. O. S. Prince Eugene is still confin'd to his Palace, by reason of his Indisposition; but he has 12 or 15 Gentlemen at Table every Day, and is often visited by the Count de Tarouca the Portuguese Minister.

Berlin, Feb. 21. O. S. 'Tis said now, that the Departure of King Stanislaus is postponed for two Months longer, till the next Dyet of Poland, or till the inire Conclusion of the Peace. The Debts of that Prince, including those of his Retinue, amount to 100,000 Crowns; and those of the other Polish Lords, of which some Part is already paid, to above double the Sum.

Hamburg, Feb. 27. O. S. About 5 Days ago Major General Marfeille, who has for 17 Years resided in this City, came to an unhappy End, being no less than 74 Years of Age; for returning in the Afternoon to his House from the Roman Catholick Chapel, he fell into a Cellar, and died in an Instant. They write from Koningsberg, that, by an express Order of King Stanislaus, Ready Money is paid for all his Provisions for his Court, and that there are not 10 Polish Lords at his Court, the rest being gone to make their Submission to King Augustus.

Thorn, Feb. 9. O. S. The Marquis Monti is to set out To-morrow for France.

Paris, March 6. O. S. The Forces that were upon the Rhine and the Moselle, are, by Order from this Court, marching homeward. On the 2d Instant the Marquis de Stainville, Envoy Extraordinary from the Duke of Lorraine, had a private Audience of the King, in which he introduced to his Majesty the Count de Hunstein, Marshal of Lorraine and Bar, who notified that Prince's Marriage to the King, and gave him a Letter from his Mother; after which he had an Audience of the Queen.

Dublin, March 2. Yesterday being the Anniversary of her Majesty's Birth-Day, his Grace the Duke of Dorset received the Compliments of the Nobility and Gentry at the Castle, before whom an Ode set to Musick was performed. The Ladies were all dress'd in plain Silks, said to be the Manufacture of this Kingdom. At Noon the Great Guns were fired three Rounds, and answer'd by the Regiments of Foot on Duty here. In the Evening there was a Play for the Entertainment of the Ladies, and afterwards a Ball at the Castle, where several Hogsheds of Wine were given to the Populace.

Northampton, March 8. On Saturday last the Corpse of Sir Gilbert Pickering, Bart. lay in State at the Red-Lion Inn in this Town, and Yesterday set out for Tichmarsh in this County, to be interred among his Ancestors. He married Elizabeth, sole Daughter, and at length Heiress of S. Stanton, Esq; of Langton in the County of Leicester, who brought a very considerable Estate into the Family; and by her, who survives him, he had many Children, but has left only one Son, now Sir Edward his Successor, at present a Student of Christ-Church in Oxford, and three Daughters.

L O N D O N.

Yesterday the Lord Delawar, set out for Greenwich to embark on board one of his Majesty's Yachts for Ostend, and from thence to proceed to the Court of Saxe-Gotha, in order to execute his Majesty's Commission for negotiating and concluding a Marriage Treaty betwixt the Prince of Wales and Princess Augusta.

Last Tuesday Sir Thomas Aston, Bart. Member of Parliament for the Borough of St. Albans, was married at Whitehall Chapel to Miss Sisse, an Heiress of a very considerable Fortune.

Yesterday the Lord Guernsey, Son to the Earl of Aylesford kiss'd their Majesties Hands at St. James's on his taking Leave of the Court, in order to set out on his Travels into foreign Parts.

The same Day the Earl of Godolphin, Lord Privy Seal, who had been very ill for some time at his Seat at Hogma gog Hills near Newmarket, came to his House at St. James's in good Health, and waited on their Majesties at St. James's, and met with a most gracious Reception.

Yesterday the Earl of Balcarras, one of the 16 Peers of Scotland, lay very ill at his House in Suffolk-street.

The same Day Sir Thomas Saunderson Seabright, Bart. Knight of the Shire for the County of Hertford, relaps'd and lay at the Point of Death at his House in Strutton-street.

Yesterday Jacob Wright was committed to the New Gaol in Southwark, by Justice Lane, for robbing Mr William Rhodes, a Farmer at Wandsworth, on the Highway of a Silver Watch, and 3 l. 4 s. in Money, and his Hat and Wig.

To-morrow will be published in this Paper, Mr. Walsingham's Answer to the Craftman's Letter of last Saturday to him on the present State of Affairs in Europe.

Arithmetic,	Heraldry,	Musick,
Algebra,	History,	Navigation,
Astronomy,	Horticulture,	Painting,
Botany,	Hunting,	Poetry,
Chymistry,	Husbandry,	Rhetorick,
Divinity,	Law,	Sculpture,
Gardening,	Logick,	Surgery, &c.

Are not only fully explain'd, but accented on their proper Syllables, to prevent a vicious Pronunciation; and marked with initial Capitals, to denote the Part of Speech to which each Word peculiarly belongs.

To which is prefixed,
A Compendious ENGLISH GRAMMAR, with general Rules for the ready Formation of one Part of Speech from another, by a due Application whereof, such as understand the English only, may be able to write as Correctly and Elegantly as those who have been some Years conversant with the Latin, Greek, &c.

Together with
A SUPPLEMENT of the proper Names of the most noted Kingdoms, Provinces, Cities, Towns, Rivers, &c. throughout the known World: As also of the most celebrated Emperors, Kings, Queens, Priests, Poets, Philosophers, Generals, &c. whether Jewish, Pagan, Mahometan, or Christian; but more especially such as are mentioned either in the Old or New Testament.

The whole Alphabetically Digested, and Collected for the Use of such as have but an imperfect Idea of the English Orthography. Originally begun by the late Rev. Mr. T. DRAKE, Author of the Spelling Dictionary, and a Guide to the English Tongue. In two Parts. And now finished by WILLIAM PARDON, Gent.

Printed for R. WARE in Amen Corner, Pater-noster-Row.

The Incomparable POWDER for Cleaning the TEETH,

Has withstood, by its most excellent and known Virtues, the Attempts of many repeated Counterfeits, some imitating it by the Name of Powder, others under several other Names, therefore pray take Notice, that the only true effectual, and original Powder, is sold no where else, but as mention'd below: It is sent for in large Quantities to the Plantations beyond the Seas, to whom good Allowance is given; and is as effectual in the East or West Indies as at London.

WHICH has given so great Satisfaction to most of the Nobility and Gentry in England, for above 30 Years that it hath been published, and vast Quantities of the same still continue to be sold.

It is sold only at Mr. King's Toyshop, the Blue-coat-Boy, against the Cross-Keys Tavern in Cornhill; and at Mr. Markham's Toyshop, the Seven Stars under St. Dunstan's Church in Fleet-street, and no where else in London; but in the Country, at Mr. Rogers's a Linen-Draper in Warwick, at 1 s. each Box. At once using it makes the Teeth as white as Ivory, tho' never so black or yellow, and effectually preserves them from rotting or decaying, continuing them sound to exceeding old Age. It wonderfully cures the Scurvy in the Gums, prevents Rheum or Inflammation, kills Worms at the Roots of the Teeth, and thereby hinders the Tooth-ach. It admirably fastens loose Teeth, being a neat cleanly Medicine, of a pleasant and grateful Scent, and in Virtue far exceeds any Thing ever yet found out for these Purposes.

All the Nobility, Gentry, &c. who send to Mr. Markham's for the Powder for Teeth, are desired to give strict Orders not to mistake the Shop, (MARKHAM at length is under the Seven Stars) because most of the Toyman in her Neighbourhood, seeing Multitudes go to her Shop for it, have trump'd up Counterfeits and sell their Stuff in Imitation of our known and approved Powder, in Prejudice to the Publick, &c.

The LIP-SALVE.
Which is so much esteemed, and of so many Years large Experience, and whose Virtues vastly exceed any Counterfeit, is sold at the same Places at 1 s. each Box.

For in two or three Hours time it heats them, tho' never so rough or chapt; prevents the Skin from peeling, and makes them delicately soft and smooth, giving them a becoming ruddy Colour; the Fragrancy of its Odour also renders the Breath sweet and sweet, and it may be eaten for its Safety.

N. B. Mrs. King is lately removed from the Blue-coat-Boy against the Royal-Exchange, to the Blue-coat-Boy against the Cross-Keys Tavern in Cornhill.
